* By signing this Project Charter the Project Manager on the one hand asserts that he will work on the base of the ethic rules of PMI. He affirms that he will do everything to respect these baselines if possible. On the other hand the Project Owner and the Project Sponsor assert by signing this Project Charter that they are willing to support their project. They affirm that they are knowing that these first scope-, time- and cost-estimates allow a deviation of at most -75% and +100%. And finally both parts assert that they will conjointly concretize the scope-, time- and cost-baselines during the project phases until a maximal deviation of -5% and +10% is reached.
